USE OF HARVESTED WATER

Sherwin-Williams does not recommend or approve the use of its coil coatings on surfaces intended for potable water collection, conveyance, or storage. Testing and approval of coated surfaces for potable water use is the sole responsibility of the coated product manufacturer. Standards for this approval may include the National Sanitary Foundation Protocol P-151 Certification of Rainwater Catchment System Components. No Sherwin-Williams coil coating products are NSF P-151 approved.
